moving a backrest support member away from the catch member of the seat section; and lowering the front edge of the seat section of the frame in the bed position.

25/105